LOCAL GINS

6 o'clock Gin - 4.50

Produced by Bramley & Gage, based in Thornbury who describe this gin as being "as smooth as velvet slippers on a marble floor". A classic dry gin paired simply with lemon.

Psychopomp Woden Gin - 4.75

Made on site at their micro distillery on St Michaels Hill, this gin is one of their most popular. Lovely hints of citrus. Paired with their perfect serve suggestion of pink grapefruit.

Jinzu Gin - 5.00

Though now distilled in Scotland, Jinzu's incarnation began in Somerset, created as part of an international spirit design competition. Made in part with sake, traditional gin botanicals are enhanced with flavours of cherry blossom and yuzu. We serve it with green apple, based on the recommendation of creator Dee Davies. A definite must try.

Mix with a Fever Tree Original or Naturally Light tonic for an extra 1.50

The majority of our wine is supplied to us by Bristol based Billings and Briggs, founded by Dan and Louise in 2015.

After years of sourcing and supplying wine for prestigious vendors and venues, the duo became disenfranchised by the production methods, scope and price tags of traditional wines and began to focus on unique sustainable, organic and biodynamic wines from across Europe.

Large wineries, even those technically classed as organic, can produce wines containing a large amount of sulphites and additives. Our selection of wines include those produced truly organically, those grown using biodynamic farming techniques and those fermented using wild and natural yeasts. The producers we showcase operate in some of the most esteemed wine making regions and the return to traditional techniques and a true natural ethos widens the scope for better quality, more sustainable wines.

In another break from tradition, a selection of our wines are 'bag in box', which we decant in house. Utilising the 'bag in box' system yields many positives and as such we are able to offer more varied selection of superior wines. And even better, reduce the carbon footprint of the process dramatically.

Though you may not see all the styles you are used to, we promise, you are going to love them.

WINES

- Sparkling -

Cava Medusa, Pagos de Tharys, Spain NV 5.00 125ml Glass 22.00 Bottle

People will not always opt for Cava but this natural fizz eclipses the majority of the Prosecco offering. Light, dry and crisp in style with a moreish mousse, we have intentionally kept this in line with our house white to encourage everyone to try something a little different.

Prosecco Frizzante, Cantina Bernardi, Italy NV 25.00 Bottle

Family owned, hand harvested. Ripe fruit, not too sweet with an understated fizz.

- Rose -

This wine is supplied to us directly by owner and curator of Dunleavy Vineyards, Ingrid Bates. Situated in the heart of the beautiful Chew Valley in Somerset, a stones throw away from Bristol, Ingrid has a background in biology and was finally able to embark on her viticultural career by planting her own vineyard in 2008. A light, crisp contemporary drop with a gorgeous pink hue. A real treat of a wine, especially for rose skeptics.

Phlox, Vins De Taller, Spain 2014 (b) 31.00 Bottle

Natural and biodynamic with wild yeasts produced on the southern Spanish border, hence it's use of typical French grapes varieties. Creamy on the mouth with a refreshing stone fruit character this is a really unique, character filled wine that is a pure delight to drink.

Pinoso Tinto, La Bodega De Pinoso, Spain 2016 (o) 22.00 750ml Carafe / 5.20 175ml

Les Galets Rouge, Vignerons D'estezargues, France 2016 (o) 25.00 750ml Carafe / 5.45 175ml *

Fresher, red fruit vibes. Flavours of ripe strawberries and silky raspberries from a variety of grapes including Syrah and Grenache.

Els Quindals, Mas Estela, Spain 2007 (b) 34.00 Bottle

Produced in Catalonia, this wine was the house at El Bulli during its tenure as the No.1 restaurant in the world. And with good reason. Strong and bold with classic characteristics of black cherry and spiced blackberry, this is a must try for red wine enthusiasts.

This results in farmers getting a fair price for their crop and an ability to supply great quality coffee.
